For whomever it may concern:-

I have known Edward Bowes for 25 years and he has undertaken excellent quality machining for me and my Company throughout the entire period. He is now a core supplier to Driveline Engineering and carries out our machining requirements on a daily basis with relentless high quality & reliability. His toolmaking, design & CAD skills are of the very highest order and coupled with the depth of his engineering knowledge the loss of this resource will present a vacuum that will be extremely difficult for Driveline to fill.

Should you wish to ask me any questions about Edward Bowes please don't hesitate to contact me at any time.

Yours sincerely
